Continuation Sheet (PTO-303)

Response to Arguments

1. The amendment filed 11/30/09 in reply to the final rejection has been considered but is not deemed to place the application in condition for allowance and will not be entered because the proposed amendment raises new issues that would require further consideration and/or search. The amended independent claim now adds the limitations "modified with carboxyl group" to describe both the polybutadiene and polyisoprene, and the copolymer. It removes a limitation "with each other in a powdery form" with regards to the carbonaceous material. It adds the limitation "per 100 parts by weight of the combination of the particulate elastomer and the carbonaceous material". There was no mention of these new limitations within the claims, and the scope has been changed by their addition and the deletion of the "powdery form" limitation. The amendment raises new issues into the prosecution of the instant application and would thus provide grounds for a new search and further consideration.
